Confidentiality agreement:

You have the right to confidentiality and privacy by the group leader and other group members. Confidentiality within the group setting is a shared responsibility of all members and the leader. While the group leader may not disclose any client communications or information, group members' communications are not protected. As such, confidentiality within the group setting is often based on mutual trust and respect.

I agree to respect my fellow group members confidentiality as it pertains to our group discussions and all group interactions.

I agree to trust that the other members of this group will also keep my information confidential.
